

We're hiring a Product Manager

SnapScan is currently looking for awesome people to join our team. For more information on the company, have a look at Offerzen company profile

In this role you will play a key part in fulfilling SnapScan's product vision, mission and business objectives. We are on a mission to deliver valuable products for both our merchants and users and we need an individual with a passion for product and people to ensure we get there.

If you are interested, please direct all responses and queries to jaime@snapscan.co.za

What you'll do

- Manage products from discovery research to delivery and go to market.
- Interface and work cross functionally with research, design, dev, marketing and other internal teams and stakeholders to ensure that products and features are built and deployed to our customers.
- Work with senior stakeholders and the product team to set the roadmap for the product domain.
- Liaise with external stakeholders where needed.
- Setup POD sessions, sit in on or facilitate usability testing, user interviews and design sprints.
- Implement and drive best practice product principles and user development practices across internal teams.
- Analyse and measure the performance of product releases to define new problems and identify opportunities for future iterations.
- Constantly thinking about new feature ideas and their potential impact.
- Communicate and work with scrum master and dev teams on what tasks are ready for the build phase and to deliver with speed and quality.

Who you are

This role requires a unique set of skills and attributes. All people are different, but we believe that if the following described you, you will be well suited for this position:

- 2+ years of experience in product management.
- Passion for technology, user experience and business.
- Passion and empathy for product and people.
- Outcome and output driven.
- Enthusiasm to understand customer needs and problems and deliver solutions.
- Experience in creating product requirements based on research and insights.

- Comfortable communicating with internal and external stakeholders.
- You are detail-oriented and process-driven and enjoy solving problems.
